

8 p.m. Monday, also at the center. The funeral is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. # The deaths drew an outpouring of anguish and support on social media. # The Abbas family, of Northville, was killed after the car they were traveling in was hit by a wrong-way driver on I-75 near Lexington, Kentucky around 2:30 a.m. on Sunday, January 6, 2018. (Photo: LEX 18) # Wayne County Commissioner Sam Baydoun, who also worked with Issam, took to Facebook to say: " I am at loss for words. There are no words to describe this tragedy. My friend and colleague and his wife and three children were killed in a fiery crash earlier today. " # Wayne County Executive Warren Evans also issued a statement on Facebook: " I am heartbroken by the news that Issam and Rima Abbas, along with their three children Ali, Isabella, and Giselle, were killed in a traffic crash this morning while traveling in Kentucky. " # Rima's office will be closed Monday and Beaumont is in the process of notifying her patients, the hospital said. # " We are devastated by the tragic loss of Dr. Rima Abbas, her beloved husband and children, " David Wood, Beaumont Health chief medical officer, said in a statement. " She was a caring mother and a dedicated family practice physician. Our hearts go out to all of her family, friends and patients during this difficult time. " # The crash occurred about 2:30 a.m., on I-75 about one mile before the Man o' War Blvd exit, Lexington police said in a press release. # Just before the collision happened, several 9-1-1 calls were received about